

This is Rob he is homeless and is sure that one day he will win the lottery and beat homelessness.

By Aidan Wood

He was walking to the Circle K on the way to buy his winning ticket.

Then all of the sudden he gets caught by a train.

Rob was caught waiting for this train for 20 minutes.

After the long train he makes it to the Circle K and the person in front of him buys the winning ticket and celebrates in front of Rob.

Rob is now depressed and it all could've been avoided if he was taking advantage of our app 'Train Crossing.' He never would've been caught by that train

The next day Rob was started using Train Crossing and beat the train. He ended up winning!
